

Make a prediction about what you think will happen later in the story. What evidence from the story makes you think that will happen?	Draw a picture to illustrate the setting of the story. Explain where and when your story takes place.	Would you like to live during that time period? Why or why not? Include examples from the story to support your answer.
Make a list of at least 10 words that are used in that time period which are no longer used today. Explain what each word means.	Make a list of factual people and events which are integrated into the fictional narrative.	Compare and contrast the time period of the novel to today.
Create a timeline sequencing the major events of the story.	Use a Venn diagram, double-bubble map, or top hat organizer to compare and contrast yourself and the main character.	Make a list of pros and cons of living in that time period.
Write a summary of the story.	Create a bubble map to describe the main character. Include evidence boxes for each descriptive characteristic.	Compare a prediction you made earlier to what actually happened in the story. Include supporting and refuting evidence from the story.